

GOVERNORS

To Be Elected In Many States This Fall

And All Kind Of Issues Figure In Contests

A Total Of 36 Governors Will Be Elected

The Contest In Ohio Of National Importance

As Result Hinges On Presidential Campaign

Washington, D. C., Aug. 12.—At the coming fall elections more states will elect governors than ever before in the history of the Union. For the first time Oregon is to join the list of Commonwealths electing their executives in November. Heretofore the Oregon state election has been held in June.

A total of thirty-six governors are to be elected this fall. Thirty-two will be voted for at the general elections in November. Three states—Vermont, Maine and Arkansas—will vote for governor next month, and Georgia will elect its executive in October.

The gubernatorial contests in some of the states are of a more than ordinarily interesting character. The elections in others will be of a purely perfunctory character, the election of the Republican or the Democratic candidates, as the case may be, being a foregone conclusion. Socialists and Prohibitionists will have candidates for governor in a majority of the states, and in some of them they are expected to poll a considerable vote.

The liquor question figures as the chief issue in the Alabama contest. Col. Emmet O'Neal, the Democratic candidate, will undoubtedly be elected to succeed Gov. Comer. The Republican candidate for governor is J. O. Thompson of Birmingham.

Governor George W. Donaghey, Democrat, will be re-elected at the Arkansas election, which will take place Sept. 12. His opponent on the Republican ticket is A. T. Roland.

In California the successor of Gov. James N. Gillett will probably be a Republican. All parties will name their tickets at the general primaries next week. Theodore A. Bell, who was chairman of the last Democratic national convention, will be the Democratic candidate for governor. Four aspirants are contesting for the Republican nomination.

In Colorado the Democrats expect to elect the successor to Gov. John F. Shafroth. The nominating conventions will be held next month.

In Connecticut the Republicans hope to choose the successor to Governor Weeks. There are two candidates for the Republican nomination, Charles A. Er is a prominent Yale graduate and Goodwin and Everett Lake. The former the latter an old Harvard football player. All indications point to the nomination of ex-Chief Justice Simeon E. Baldwin for governor on the Democratic ticket.

Both parties in Delaware will work hard to elect the successor to Governor Simeon S. Pennell. The nominations are yet to be made.

In Florida Gov. Albert W. Gilchrist will be succeeded by another Democrat.

In Georgia also the Democrats are assured of the governorship. Gov. Joseph M. Brown is opposed for another term by former Gov. Hoke Smith. The choice will be made at the primaries August 23, and the election will follow in October.

The nominations have not yet been made in Idaho, but the Republicans expect to have no difficulty in re-electing Gov. James M. Brady.

Iowa Republicans expect to re-elect Erats have had their hopes for success. Gov. B. F. Carroll, though the Democrats increased by the bitter factional contest between the Republican regulars and insurgents.

Gov. Walter R. Stubbs, leader of the Republican insurgents in Kansas, has just been renominated at the state primaries. His opponent on the Democratic ticket is George H. Hodges, a member of the state senate.

The state election in Maine will be held Sept. 12. Gov. Bert M. Fernald is a candidate for re-election on the Republican ticket. The Democratic nominee is Frederick W. Plaisted, mayor of Augusta. The Democrats are working hard this year and expect to cut down the Republican majority even if they do not succeed in electing their own candidate.

Massachusetts, unless the unexpected happens, will re-elect Gov. Eben L. Draper, Republican. The Democrats will name either Congressman Eugene Foss or James H. Vahey, who was their standard bearer last year.

The successor to Gov. Frank M. Warner of Michigan will in all probability be another Republican. Three Republicans, Lieut. Gov. Kelley, Chase S. Osborne and Amos Musselman of Grand Rapids, are contesting for the nomination, which will be dedicated at the state primaries on Sept. 6.

Gov. Adolph C. Eberhart is the Republican candidate for re-election in Minnesota. Former Gov. John Lind has been named by the Democrats, but he has declined to accept the nomination and unless he is persuaded to reconsider his decision another candidate will have to be named.

Both parties in Nebraska are split over the liquor question. Gov. A. C. Shallenberger, Democrat, is a candidate for renomination. He will be opposed in the primaries by James H. Dahlman, the famous cowboy mayor of Omaha, and W. R. Patrick, a member of the state senate.

In Nevada Gov. D. S. Dickerson is slated for re-election on the Democratic ticket.

New Hampshire is counted upon to elect another Republican to succeed Gov. Henry B. Quincy. The selection of a candidate will be made at the first state primary on Sept. 6. At the present time Robert B. Bass, formerly well-known as a war correspondent, appears to be the most probable choice of the Republican. Mr. Bass is allied with the progressive faction of his party in New Hampshire. Clarence E. Carr will in all probability be the Democratic nominee.

Nothing has been decided definitely as to who shall lead the two tickets in New Jersey. Gov. J. Franklin Fort, Republican, is not a candidate for renomination. There is said to be a feeling that the Democrats can win if they pick the right man. Woodrow Wilson, president of Princeton University, is prominently mentioned for the nomination.

The same feeling of uncertainty exists in regard to the successor of Gov. Charles E. Hughes of New York. Though both parties will soon hold their nominating conventions it is impossible at present to foretell the choice of either for governor. The Republican party is badly split, while the Democrats are said to be more closely united than has been the case in many years.

The Democrats in North Dakota confidently expect to elect Gov. John Burke for a third term. Gov. Burke's opponent on the Republican side is C. A. Johnson, who is allied with the stalwart faction.

The contest in Ohio between Gov. Judson Harmon, who is the Democratic candidate for re-election, and Warren Harding, whom the Republicans have just named after a bitter contest, will be watched with interest by the entire country, owing to the bearing which the result may have on the next presidential campaign.

The Democrats of Oklahoma expect to elect the successor to Gov. Charles N. Haskell. Their candidate is Lee Cruce, a banker of Ardmore. Joseph O'Neal of Guthrie is the Republican nominee.

The nominations in Oregon will be settled at the September primaries. For the gubernatorial nominations on both tickets there are numerous aspirants.

The situation in Pennsylvania is interesting and the result is anxiously awaited. Congressman John K. Tener has been nominated for governor by the Republicans and Webster Grim by the Democrats. In addition there is a strong third ticket in the field, nominated by the Keystone party, made up of independents from both the older parties. The gubernatorial candidate of the Keystone party is William H. Berry, former state treasurer.

In Rhode Island the Republican and Democratic candidates have not yet been named.

Several Democrats aspire to succeed Gov. Martin F. Ansel of South Carolina, who will not be a candidate for re-election.

Governor R. S. Vessey, Republican, is a candidate for re-election in South Dakota and all indications point to his success. The Democratic candidate is Chauncey L. Wood of Rapid City.

Gov. Malcolm R. Patterson, Democrat, has been renominated in Tennessee and will probably be successful, though he has many opponents within the ranks of his own party.

Oscar B. Colquitt, Democrat, will succeed Gov. Thomas M. Campbell of Texas. J. O. Terrell of San Antonio is the Republican choice for governor.

Vermont Republicans are confident of electing John A. Mead of Rutland, at present lieutenant governor, to succeed Gov. George H. Prouty. The Democratic nominee is Charles D. Watson of St. Albans. The election will take place Sept. 6.

The coming primaries will decide the gubernatorial nominations in Wisconsin. Adolph J. Schmitz of Milwaukee is the choice of the Democrats. For the Republican nomination there are five aspirants in the field. Wyoming will probably elect another Republican to succeed Gov. Bryant B. Brooks. Among those mentioned for the honor is former United States Senator J. M. Carey, father of the Carey land act. Senator Carey is allied with the so-called independent faction of the Republican party in Wyoming.

ELECTED

To Office Twenty Years Ahead Of Time

Delaware, Aug. 12.—A five-months-old little girl has been nominated by the Ohio Rebekahs as vice president in 1930. Mrs. Ethel Richey Wells, wife of Deputy Sheriff W. W. Wells of Delaware county, has been very popular in the order, having been past president. This year, for the first time in thirteen years, she was detained from the state gathering because of the arrival a short time previously of little Ethel Richey Wells. When the convention heard of the reason, a resolution was immediately adopted to the effect that the baby be elected vice president in 1930, and the same appears in the convention minutes just issued.

RELIGION

Pure And Simple Is The Slogan At Camp Sychar

Demonstrated By A Powerful Sermon By Rev. O'Brien

Before A Vast Congregation Thursday Evening

Some Changes Were Made In Friday's Program

Some Notes Of Interest Concerning The Campers

A departure from mundane affairs and an abrupt transition into the aestheticism of religion is the keynote of the success of the holiness meetings at Camp Sychar. Religion, pure and simple, is the slogan and a most successful one it is. The enthusiasm displayed on all hands only confirms the policy which has been adopted. A greater manifestation of enthusiasm has never been known before than that which occurred Thursday evening.

Rev. J. M. O'Brien preached the sermon and took his text from the Rev. VII. 16:

"They shall hunger no more, neither thirst any more." Rev. O'Brien took occasion to offer this as the correct solution of the present difficulties in that respect which are universal among the poorer classes. The rest of his sermon was an exposition on the glories and beauties of heaven, and, to quote one minister, it was the most "effective yet preached."

Several changes were made in today's program. Rev. C. J. Fowler preaching at 9:30 in place of Rev. F. I. Johnson and Mrs. Trego addressed the W. C. T. U. organization at one o'clock this afternoon in Mr. Fowler's stead.

The singing which has been so ably conducted by Rev. A. H. Johnson and wife is still the chief center of interest and is daily influencing people to come forward. Mr. and Mrs. Johnson have been re-engaged for next year's services by unanimous vote. They are accompanied by Mrs. Sadie Mishey of Jelloway and Miss Rich of Ravenna on the piano. In addition, there is Mr. Noe, a cornetist who is conceded to put more feeling into his playing than anyone heretofore on the grounds. Mr. Noe's playing is of the kind that stirs the heart-strings and resonates through the whole system.

Sychar Notes

Rev. Thomas and wife left yesterday for Korea to enter their mission field after having attended the meetings.

Rev. Vernon Wager spent a few days in camp.

Mr. Charles Thompson, "Happy on the Way," is in camp.

Rev. C. J. Fowler, who has attended the meetings for twelve years, is preaching more effectively than ever.

Mrs. Crouse has been re-employed as instructor of the children's meetings.

Rev. S. A. Danford of Bismark, N. D., will be one of the workers of the camp next year.

Rev. C. R. Chilton of Bucyrus arrived yesterday to enjoy the remainder of the meetings.

Mrs. Stella McNutt, former leader of the children's meetings, spent one day in camp. At this time, she lead the singing and her many friends were delighted to see and hear her.

Miss Edith Jones sang last night to the delight of everybody.

Joseph Colopy and wife of Danville spent yesterday on the grounds.

Henry Croy and wife together with about twelve others from Trinway came yesterday to stay the remainder of the time.

Miss Charity Norris and Miss Nanny Balch of Coshocton left this morning after spending some days on the grounds.

Rev. Kletzing, manager of the Christian Witness Company of Chicago, has charge of the book store and is doing an excellent business.

Mr. Grindle of Cleveland is manager of the grocery and lunch room. A record breaking attendance is expected next Sunday.

Fifty per cent more tents have been engaged for the meetings next year than at this time last year. This is surely gratifying not only from a pecuniary standpoint but from the fact that this is an indication of the religious success of the meetings.

"PILLAR"

Of Church And A Married Woman Arrested

Tiffin, O., Aug. 12.—John W. Flick, former president of the Board of Trustees of the U. B. Church, of Kokomo, and Mrs. W. H. Perkins, also of Kokomo, who has been living at Tiffin, Ohio, since June 19 as husband and wife, were arrested here today. Both left families in Kokomo, and the arrest was made at the instigation of Flick's wife, who arrived today.

Flick is a potter by trade. When he left Kokoma he said he was going to take his wife, who suffered from heart disease, to his old home in Virginia, for the benefit of her health.

After taking his wife and child to Virginia Flick left them and his wife heard no more from him until a few days ago, when she learned he was here.

Before leaving Kokomo Flick and Mrs. Perkins had formed an attachment that was the subject of much comment, particularly because of Flick's prominence in the U. B. Church. His sudden departure from Kokoma prevented an investigation by the church board.

Mrs. Perkins is the wife of an employe of the Kokomo Steel and Wire Company. Mr. Perkins, it is said, is on his way to Tiffin tonight.

KICKED

By A Horse And Rendered Unconscious

Edward Hays Meets With Severe Injury

Edward Hays, brother of Deputy Clerk of Courts Charles L. Hays, was most seriously injured Thursday afternoon at his home three miles east of Utica, while working about a colt in the barn. In some manner the colt commenced to kick and struck Mr. Hays with both hoofs in the breast. He was rendered unconscious and was discovered in this condition by a number of neighbors. He was removed to the house and Dr. Ely of Utica was called in attendance. Mr. Hays was unconscious for an hour and a half, but the attending physician could find no broken bones. It is feared, however, that is injured internally. He passed a restless night and his condition is somewhat alarming.

Mr. Garfield Snow and son, Kenneth, of East Hamtramck street, went to Danville Friday morning to spend the day.

Mr. Milton Parrott has returned to his home on North Catherine street after a short visit with friends in Columbus.

Channel To Be Changed Near Butler

To Prevent Washouts On The B. & O. Ry

The Baltimore & Ohio railroad company has completed plans for the construction of a new channel for Crook creek near Butler and the work will probably be begun within a short time.

The new channel will be constructed with a view to prevent washouts of the tracks of the company and also prevent the annual flooding of the town in the southern part of the county whenever there is any heavy rain.

The creek's channel at present crosses the railroad tracks several times and there is considerable low land in the immediate vicinity of Butler where the water flows when there is a heavy rain or storm. Not only the railroad tracks but the public road and parts of Butler are flooded by the water and on several occasions during the past year it caused considerable damage.

There is a high bluff running along the south side of the railroad tracks and it was thought that the expense of diverting the channel of the creek would be too great, but the railroad company's engineers have completed the plans which call for the construction of a new channel which will be about 2,000 feet long and which will be wide enough to carry off all the water that comes down the creek at flood seasons. It will be an expensive improvement for the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, but it will result in no more washouts along the track and also prevent the town of Butler from being flooded in the future. The work will be done under the direction of Supervisor H. A. Rudolph.—Mansfield News.
